A "BOOB STATE"

California is still bristling with ndignation over an attack made on that state for the part it played in the election. The Chicago Tribune was an ardent Hughes supporter. When it became evident that California, by its vote had changed an apparent Hughes victory into defeat, The Tribune gave vent to its emotions in a wrathful editorial in which it remarked:

"By giving Wilson the vote it did, California, with its record and Wilson's record, presented itself as the champion boob state of the Ameriean republic."

The result is what might have been expected. If there is a state in the union that is proud and sensitive, it is California. Nearly every paper in the state took occasion to inquire indignantly, "Are We Bobs?" and to express its opinion of the self-styled 'World's Greatest Newspaper' in appropriate terms. Republican papers joined with their Democratic contemporaries in resenting the imputation. Many of them declared that, while they disagreed with the verdict of the majority necessarily a "bunch of boobs." They pointed out that American freedom is built on acquiscence in the verdict of the majority-that a majority vote becomes the voice of the people, and is therefore entitled to respect. They condemned the Tribune as a "bad loser." And they were right. Regardless of the issues at stake, it's silly for any man or newspaper to act the poor sportman when an election is lost, or vent disappointment in abusing people of other minds. Every citizen has a right to vote according to the dic-$634,493.22 tates of his own conscience. So has every city and every state. And speaking broadly, every conscientious vote is right. ECLIPSES IN 1917

During the year about to begin, 1917, there will be seven eclipses, four of the sun and three of the moon. Of this number, though only two will be visible in North America. The first astronomical phenomenon will be the total eclipse of the moon on January 7 and 8. This will be visible generally in North America. On the 23rd of January there will be a partial eclipse of the sun, however, not visible to North America. On June the 19th, another partial eclipse of the sun will be invisible to North America. However, a total eclipse of By Being Constantly Supplied Will the moon will occur on July 4, but will in no way interfere with the Independence celebration, as it will not be visible to this country. DEMOCRATIC FORWARD LEAGUE STARTS FIGHT FOR STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

Monster Banquet Addressed By Bryan, Beckham, McChesney, Alexander and Sommers Is Held In Louisville.

Legislators Who Stand Not Only For Submission But For Adoption Of Amendment By People To Be Campaigned For This Year

tucky has probably known, the fight for a Democratic Legislature that will properly submit at the 1918 session that I came all the way from Miami, in the question of amending the consti-tution of the State to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, and to that end electing Senators and Representatives who beyond doubt favor such an amendment, is on and will be waged without cessation until the people have spoken sation until the people have spoken in the August primary election.

The inauguration of this eampaign which was given by the Democratie heard words of advice and counsel I nm simply Beckham's fieutenant when from the lips of William J. Bryan, I come to your State.

The gathering was probably the in years. Judges, court and county officials, lawyers, ministers of all denominations. physicians, editors of Kentucky newspapers and business men from all over the State made up the throng. No meeting ever held in the Scate exceeded it in enthusiasm, hundreds who were unable to get a seat at the banquet waiting outside until the speaking was begun. The december of this question, and if you will bear with me for just a few moments I want to present to you two arguments that are making this ecuntry prohibition. One is an economic argument. The economic argument is this, that as the use of intoxicating illquor is All were Democrats, the standing-up men of their communities, and the that cannot live except as it lujures the word in every mouth was that control of the Democratic party mest be wrested from the domination of the "The first is that you may travel over

In the course of his speech Mr. Bryan said:

"The question is here and we have got The question is here and we have got to decide which side of the issue we will take. When a child is born you have to take eare of it, for it is a member of the take. When a child is born you have to take earc of it, for it is a member of the family from the time of its birth, and the child is born, the issue is here. Twenty three States are dry and several more have so clearly indicated their intention that we shall have not far from thirty dry that we shall have not far from thirty dry States within two years from this time. We now have a majority in both the Seante and the House in favor of a national amendment to the constitution, and mere than half the people of this nation now live in dry territory.

People Must Rule. "I believe in the right of the people to rule, and if there is any virtue in the doctrine that the people have a right to rule, when a majority of the people of this conntry declare that the saloon must go, the saloon from that day is an outlaw and the Domocratic party shall not stand sponger for an author. The Lexington Meeting.

"They have been kind enough to tell you also. I fixed the same day, and these two occasions have amply justified me in taking the trip from the Sunny South. It cheered my heart to see these college stuwas marked by a monster banquet held in the city of Louisville, the it cheers me none the less to see the repbrewing interests of the State, on last bled here, and with no foaming beer or Thursday evening. "The first is that you may travel over this country and you will not find a sign-board advertising a town or city that gives the number of saloons in the town. You will find everything else, everything they think attractive, the number of factories, banks, business houses, colleges, schools, churches, but I challenge you to find a billboard between the two ocears that tells the number of saloons may travel over this country and you will not find a sign-board advertising a town or city that gives the number of saloons in the town. that tells the number of saloons may city Mr. Bryan, who made the principal has when they are halting people to come

They put the saioous among the bomes of the poor, knowing they cannot plan a saioon there and make it tirive except as widows and children suffer hereause of it. Friends, some day these men who attempt to terrorize your city and corrupt your polities will stand before the judgment bar of God and they will hear read the command. Thon shait not kill, it is not to be get rid of them, for they disgrace you will even they cannot dominate and control the party, and if the men who stand for the saioon agalust the home are able to milte to put a saioon in every community why can't the people who are opposed to the saioons stand together for the home, and of all the parties that this country has ever known, the Democratic party is read the command. Then shait not kill, and they will see the line of those who. from age to infancy, have been murdered that they might make the money that comes from selling that which took their lives, but you need not worry about them. God will take care of them. Even the distlifer and brewer is not blg enough to defy with impunity the laws of his

Maker.
"There is something more important to consider, and that than that for you io consider, and that is whether you will be his partner and share the moral responsibility. There is something the saloon needs besides customers, something it needs besides captalled to work the control of the c ital to run, something it needs besides the liquor that it seis: It needs the votes that bring it into existence. The man who furnishes the capital gets dividends or interest on his investment. The man who seils the liquor gets profit on his product, but the men who furnish the votes get us dividends and get no interest. They just loveliest and sweetest womanhood on earth get the disgrace of belifg a slient partner with men who would not be seen on the street with them or allow them to come within their walls.

Organizing Dry Democrats.

"They say If we do not have the saioons they will sell anyhow. Well, they won't they say. It is anyhow. Well, they won't make winsky and hake me their partner by boasting of their lawiessness in advance. We all speak of anarchists without praise, but the real possess to bring about as speedily as possible the time when there is not a saloon distillery nor n brewery anywhere anarchists are not these little fellows who carry red flags in little parades and speak on street corners. They are just few in numbers and very sniall in influence. The real anarchists of this country in number and in power are the men who stand behind the liver being about as speedily as possess to bring about as speedily as posses. bind the liquor business and boast that they will defy the government and disthey will defy the government and dis-obey the laws. And, my friends, do you tell me that the Democratic party can af-ford to take their side and be known as their champion in the fight that is com-lag? No, my friends, we cannot close the door of hope to the Democratic party in order to lie in the gutter with these people. The Democratic party must not die of dell'lum tremens or be buried in a drunkard's grave. drunkard's grave.

"They say if we must close the shioons we should at least compensate them. Well, my friends, if they had saved the money they have spent in trying to corrupt government they would have enough to retire their capital and go out of business without loss. Down in Texas they got hold of their books a few years ago and they found how much they had contributed to the corruption of Texas politics, and they found the letters that they had written examination and they found the letters that they had written explaining and directing how the sinsh fund should be used for the corruption of polities, and that disclosure was partly responsible for the fact that last summer over 300,000 Texas Democrats went to a primary and voted, and a ma-jority voted to submit the prohibition amendment to the voters of Texas. And about a year ago they had a suit in Penn-syivania, and when they called on the brewers one ity one and asked them to disclose their books, every brewer au-swered that on the advice of his lawyer he could not answer without incriminating himself, and he took advantage of the criminal's defense. That is what they did in Pennsylvania, and the Democratic party dare not become the partner of criminals to continue their business in this country.

Question of Compensation.

"They say that we must compensate them. Well, when we passed laws against the carrying of concealed weapons we did not compensate the makers of revolvers tor the destruction of their business, and when we pass laws on any subject we do not compensate the people who have invested in implications that took the chances of the law, and of all the businesses the liquor business is the last business that should have asked for compensation. Why, pry friends, these men have known the kind of business they were engaged in; they have known that they threatened imman life even for the moderate drinker. They know the number of drinkards that they trained for drunkards' graves, and yet they ask you to give them back any money that they may lose by Investing in a business that they fully understood. "My answer is let them give back to the mother the boy they took from her and brought to a drunkard's grave; let them give back to the wife the husband of whom they deliberately robbed her; let them give back to orphan children the fathers whom they first converted into brutes and then to drove to drunkards' graves, and then we call will talk about compensating them for any pecuniary toss they may suffer. Let them give back the price of things of which they have deprived society before they ask for money recompense for the joic changing of their business buildings from to another purpose, and you might as well say if you pass a law prohibiting a man from using his gnn to kill his fellowman you must buy the gnn from him as common justice. First, there is no justice in it, and, second, the liquor people cannot ask us to adopt anything that is not necessary or just merely for the privilege of driving away more votes than we can get from the people who ask us to do that

Caution is Urged.

"My friends, do not be deceived, and 1 want to indorse what Mr. McChesney has said to you and that is. Welcome any convert who comes, but don't trust any-body too soon with the power to neuzzle your authority. Why, my friends, if these men realizes the injury they have done to society by taking the sale of the salson, they will be ashamed for several years to ask you to trust them with antiority. Put no one but the faithful on guard until you have submitted the proposition written. not as the wets want it written, but as the drys want it written, and then con-thuse your fight until you have adopted it in your State and then elect at the ime a Legislature lu sympathy with your amendment that will make the laws to carry out your amendment and close out this business in your State.
"And now, my friensd, let me just say a word about party politics. I know politicians very well. I know their tendency to dodge as long as the dodging is good. and I know, too, that when they have to toe the mark they do it, and you will be much interested during the next year to the spiebdld speeches on the side of prohibition from those you had not suspected of being with you. The politician a great bandwagon primer and the musie has already commenced and the band-wagen is about ready to start and the Democratic party must take the side of the people against the saloon and it cannot, afford to listen to their argument that you cannot run your government without the money that they pay in.

Speech of Senator Beckham

Senator Beckham sald in part: "The most embarrassing exper "The most embarrassing experience I encounter when I am out of this State, especially at your national capital, is when 1 occasionally meet citizens of other States and in some instances of other countries, who have not been to Kentneky, and their first comment when told that I am from Kentneky is with a smile. The State where they make whisky. They madertake to be pleasant about it, but it is irritating to me. I resent the idea that this great coumonwealth of ours with the noblest and most chizarous manhood and with the most chivairous manhood and with the loveliest and sweetest womanhood on earth as politely as I can under such circumstances that that remark will not go in a few years, that the time is rapidly approaching in Kentucky when we will not make whisky and I hope it will only be a very few years, and I am willing to de-kindness or hostility toward those who are engaged in that husiness. This is not a personal contest. We should not imithe methods of those who fight us hy using defamation of character, by in-duiging in slander or libel or anything of that kind. Our cause is so just that we do not need to ludnige in personalities to insure its success in this great fight. I hope to see those engaged in that business succeed in life and they should take warning today, my friends, and they should gather in their sails because I believe that there is no political event of the future more certain than that the next Legislature of Kentucky will submit to the people of this State a constitutional amendment upon State-wide prohibition and that in 1919 the earliest day upon which we can get a vote, an overwheiming majority of our people will adopt it.

The whiskey men wili begin to use every sophistry, every fallacy, every false argument and mlsrepresentation possible to mislead the people of Kentucky. But the time has passed when any man or even paper can say a word of defense in favor of the defenseless saloon. "The only argument upon which they have any hope left is the economic idea, the idea that they would hendeate into the minds of the people of Kentucky, that this is a great industry in our State, that it bears a large part of the burden of taxation in our counties, cities and States, "But, my friends, it takes only a little "But, my friends, it takes only a recommon sense to meet such a fallacy as that. The figurer business does not pay that. The figurer business does not pay any taxes at ail. Whisky and beer do pay any taxes. Such taxes as are collected on them come from the consumers of those products and those products them-seives pay no taxes, "I believe as firmly as I believe anything, after years of experience and of observa-tion and with considerable experience in the matter of your State finances, that the best thing that can happen to your State from a revenue standpoint would be the complete elimination of the liquor business from this State. I believe that notifing can happen in this State that would mean more to the foundation of industries and to the commercial development of the Slate than the suppression of that traffic, not merely to close the salorus, but to prohibit the manufacture. There is no reason to legislate against the saloon unless yen legislate also against those concerns which furnish the products that are sold in the saloons,

HIs Interest in the Question.

"This is a great tight. I have been interested in a number of Issues in this State and in this country slace I first came to mashood and took an luterest and part in the political affairs of the State and the country, but I say to you, my friends, there has never been any question In which I am more interested or in which I can see more of far-reaching, Ineal-culable benefit to the people of this State than I do in prohibition and the cilmhution of the ijonor traffic, not only from Kentneky, but from this entire nation. I rejoice in it more than I have ever rejoiced in any personal success of my own, "We don't take the brick ont of a wali quire that the building shall be used for another purpose, and you might as surprised as surpris strength of that sentiment in Washington.
"It would not be surprising to me If the present Congress should favorably act on that amendment and submit it to the Stales

"So the cause is growing. It is getting stronger and stronger every day, and I welcome to our ranks these new converts. I am not going to criticise the sincerity of their purpose. I do not believe in trying to hold a monopoly on any good thing. I want to see the Democratic party in Kentucky take charge of this movement. I want it to throw off entirely the yoke of liquor domination in this State, and I want it to be the Instrument through which this great reform is to be accomplished, but I hope that our Republican friends will be dry, too. I hope they will make that party dry.

"Why, the last plea they make is on the matter of compensation. They say if you suppress their business you should compensate them for what they may lose. No such plan as that has ever been adopted. No business of any kind that lives upon the misfortunes and calamities and tragedies of the human race should ever be compensated when that business is prohibited. I wish I had the genius and power to write a law and secure its enactment that would forever eliminate the possibility of war in this country and in the world. I believe I would rather do that than even to see Kentucky dry. But If that could be done, my friends, If I or anyone else could seeure the enactment of such a law or the adoption of such a policy, it would throw out of business all of these great munitlon factories and armor plate plants and gun factories of this country, and then they would have even more reason to ask for compensation than the liquor people would have If prohibition comes.

Dr. Alexander's Address

Dr. A. J. A. Alexander. President of the Forward League, spoke in part as

"The fight against the rule of the liquor Interests in Kentucky has been a long and hard one. We have been compelled to meet this influence in every Legislature in the last twelve years, and mo question can be settled on its merits because of such interference. ure introduced, no matter what its purpose, has to be made to fit into the scheme of the liquor lobby. Every legislator who had the temerity to strike a blow against this great evil must expect his pet measures to be knifed, his personal character assalled and even his life threatened. There are men before me who could give their personal testi-mony to this. This state of affairs must not continue. A question is not tinally settled until it is settled right, and i am sure that no man could look into the faces of the men before me and fail to see that this time it shail be settled right.

The Legislative Contests. "For many years we have been striving cially when tried and true veterans are to get the very best laws obtainable from available.

our Legislature. An increasing success there is the very life with the 'conversion' of the very life with the 'conversio our Legislature. An increasing success has crowned our efforts. Prior to 1891 we had some twenty-five dry counties, but this was accomplished through special en-actment. After the new constitution was adopted the Legislature passed what was considered a county unit law, but the courts construed it as merely a precinct unit law. More dry territory was added, however, and thus it was an advanced

"In 1906 there was passed a county unit was far from what we desired and yet it was' distinctiv an advance.

"In 1912 the present county unit law was passed and nuder its operations we now have 106 dry counties. is the best we have had up to the pres-ept time and yet the liquor domination of our State has not been overcome. In every one of these advances we have had to meet the bitterest and most un-scrupulous opposition and every means, fair and foll was used to defeat them. We must expect the same until we have driven liquor entirely from our Commonweaith. "Such have been the steps in our fight so far. The battle has never been a strictly party one. Always have there been men both for us and against us in both of the great parties. I wish, however, to call your attention to one fact, a fact of which we Democrats may be well proud. None of the advance steps named were taken by either of the Re-publican administrations which have governed Kentucky in the last two decades. Every advance has been under Demoeratic leadership. The Democratic party in the nation is today the party of mogit is no mere coincidence that of the twenty-five States that have now gone nry nearly all gave their electoral yotes to Wilson. As the dominant party in Ken-tucky, it should be the one to lead in

"It would seem, however, that in the leadership is imperiled. It is hardly necessary for me to recount the events of the last few years to prove this. Five years ago a Democratic candidate on a dry platform was elected Governor by a majority of 31,000. Two years ago a majority of 21,000. Two years ago a penceratic candidate who stood for every advance step in the anti-liquor tight was elected to the United States Senate by a majority of 22,000. One year ago a Democratic candidate on a reactionary platform was elected Governor by a majority of jess than 500. One fact is abundantly demonstrated by these tigures. The Democratic party is the dominant party only when it can annex a combining to the combined to the final roll call, but will use every honorable means to a vance it to a vote, it is going to take some of our time, and in many instances all of our courage. The Work To Be Done.

"We must see that these dry candidates are nominated and elected. We must see that the Legislature of 1918 shall submit to the voters a satisfactory amendment to our constitution making it unlawful to seil within the lounds malt liquor for any purpose other than sacramental; further, that after a reasonable length of time it shall be untawful to manutacture any such liquors within

We must then use our utmost endeavor to bring it about that in the election of 1919 Kentucky shall pile up such an overwhelming majority for this amendment that this dragon, this monster, that has for so long strangled our government and cast its polinting shadow over every activity in this fair State shall never again dare to raise its head. our great party proudly write into its platform a new declaration of independence as far reaching in its importance as its prototype, penned by its great founder, Thomas Jefferson. The Democracy of Kentucky is and of right ought to be a free and independent rearty." to be a free and independent party.'

Mr. McChesney's Speech

Mr. McChesney, responding to the toast, "Forward Democracy," said: "The subject would be an inspiring one at any time, but it is doubly so on this occasion, when we have with us as the guest of honor the distinguished Democrat from Nebraska, who is America's greatest inving exponent of forward Democracy, is but stating the facts of history say that every progressive plank written into a Democratic platform, state or national, in this country during the last wenty years, has been either the direct. indirect inspiration of his heart and

"These challenges and demands come with each transplants force that only a of item esentatives and in the Senate of "These challenges and demands come with such tremendous force that only a progressive and fearless Democracy can meet them: hence the organization of the Democratic Forward League. As you have been told, it is an organization strictly within the Democratic party, and means to accomplish its purposes within boyent to defaunation of character. I am happy in believing, however, that the type of Democracy represented here will not be deterred for an instant by few quality of the opposition.

The fight is on, both in the state and nation, and, like Henry of Navarre, the white plane of W. J. Bryan is to be seen in the front of the great battle.

"In the second place, let me say that it must be an unselfish Democracy. The man who would enlist in this campaign to make Kentucky dry must be willing to serve in the trenches. The Democrat who would allow his personal ambition to hinder or delay the triumph of this righteous cause is not worthy to bear its stainless flag. If we enter the conflict with this spirit of service in our hearts, the enemy recognitions. the enemy, powerful as it is, can not check our forward march.

Watch the Other Fellow.

"It must be a vigilant and discriminat-ng Democracy. The liquor element will ing Democracy. The liquor element will not put avowed wet candidates in the field. In many Legislative and Sourtoriai districts. Democrats who have been consistently and persistently 'wet' all their lives, men who fought the county unit law at every step in its progress, are announcing their candidacy and declaring for submission, and in some in-stances for adoption. We do not present to say that some of these sudden conver-sions might not be genn be, but there is too much at stake to put in positions of responsibility men who have had all their training in the enemy's camp, espe-

these life-long enemies of the cause, simultaneous with the announcement of their candidacy for legislative honors, the recent hypocritical declaration of the leading whisky newspapers of the state that they favor submission. It is but another part of the conspiracy to throw the temperance Democrats off their guard, make them believe the tight for submission is all over, and while they are re-joicing over this alleged fact, the 'wets' measure which, however, exempted mu-nicipalities of over 3,000 inhabitants. This find some excuse to defeat the submission biii outright, or would pass a palpable fake, inoperative and worthless, and thus delay the eause for five years.

"This Forward Democracy must be an intelligent Democracy. We neust meet husiness arguments with business facts, To illustrate, the information is easily oldainable that the states that have voted dry are among the most prosperous of the Union; that their taxes are lower Union; that their taxes are and their bank balances larger than in the wet states; that in our own state the cost of criminal prosecutions and penltentiary, asylum and other state expenses, directly traceable to liquor, are overwhelmingly greater than the taxes the state receives from the liquor business. In round numbers, the liquor business pays Into the State Treasury in taxes $650,000.00 a year, and takes out, in the expenses to which I have referred, $1,100,000,000.

"We must meet the 'confiscation' argument with the plain statement that prohibition is not contiscation; that there is no purpose to take a person of any is no purpose to take a penny of any man's property away from him; that the Supreme Court has held that no man has a right to manufacture liquor, in the sense that a man has the right to till the soil, but that he merely has a privilege, granted him by the sovereign peo-ple under the law, and that the authority that conferred the privilege has the same right to withdraw it at its pleasure. If this does not satisfy the contender, we may simply remind him that he is res-"It would seem, however, that in the last eighteen months this position of leadership is imperiled. It is hardly necessary for me to recount the events of character of alleged confiscation has been ures. The Democratic party is the dominant party only when it can annex a considerabel part of the increasingly large independent vote. Another tact just as thoroughly demonstrated is that this independent vote is almost solidly dry.

"Republicans recognize both of these facts thoroughly and show it by throwing overboard to be a proper to be a proper to be a proper to realize what the future of the Democratic party in Kentucky is should its present course be continued. "We have the greatest respect for all men who are not in politics, who seek the organizations that have fought for no office, but who are very deeply inter-prohibition through the years that are ested in the welfare of our State and our party. We advocate the candidacy of no man except in so far as that candidacy and advance our cause. To obtain the object that I have mentloned, we realize that certain steps must be laken. This is an auspicious gathering, which brings together so many distinguished citizens of the Commonwealth to do honor to the foremost private citizen of America. A gathering of noted Democrats, with different views on many ques-tions, but ail of whom would destroy liquor domination of the polities of the state. I have been asked to speak for ten minutes on "The Influence of the

Chronic Catarrh is Curable

Nothing is more distressing to the sufferer and his friends. Chronic catarrh is systemic—thatis, it is present throughout the body, though it may manifest itself in a local ulceration.

Only a constitutional treatment will overcome systemic catarrh. Local treatments sometimes help the acute manifestations, but they cannot overcome the systemic disdorer.

PERUNA Has Helped Thousands

It is a fee to catairh. The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes that. Peruna benefits in a number of ways. Peruna builds up the digestion, restores the strength, and helps put the system in gives vitality to the system, restores tone to the membranes and enables these to per-form their functions. In many cases its benefits begin at once, and it rarely fails when treatment is continued properly.

PROMINENT KENTUCKY WOMAN SPEAKS

Slaugherville, Ky.—"I wish to tell you of the benefit Dr. Pierce's medicines have been to us. Several members of my amily have taken either 'Golden Medical Discovery' or 'Favorite Prescription' and always with the very best of results. Three years ago my husband had a very severe skin trouble. He took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' which he procured from a local druggist, and was entirely cured.

'Two years ago I had nervous trouble, heart affections and severe pains in my head. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and was relieved. I have taken it several times in the last few years and always with perfect results. I can recommend it to anyone as being all it is represented to be "—Mrs. S. P. Collings, L. Box 112.

It is the object of this Bank to serve well the community in which it is located and as evidence that the service it renders is entirely satisfactory to its customers we point to the growth as shown by the following comparative statement of deposits Deposits-December 30, 1914. Deposits-December 30, 1915... Deposits-December 30, 1916...

It has been very gratifying to the officers of this Bank to note the number of new accounts that have been opened with us during the past year and especially in view of the fact that in most instances these new accounts can be directly traced to the influence of satisfied customers. In presenting the within statement to our friends and customers we want to call your particular attention to the increase in the Deposits of this Bank during the past year and to assure you of our appreciation of the loyal support on your part that has made this statement possible.

It shall continue to be the policy of this Bank to be of the utmost service to its patrons and on a basis of Security, Satisfaction and Service we solicit the Banking Business of the citizens of Crab Orchard and vicinity.

JESSE W. OVERSTREET, Asst. Mgr People's Tobacco Warehouse

Auction Sales Every Day Saturdays and Holidays

We will continue auction sales every day excepting Saturdays and holidays from now on. You can rest assured that Danville will be the highest market in this section, as we are the closest market to the largest re-drying and manufacturing plans in the world.

Our accommodations for both man and beast are as good as the best. The loose leaf floor plan is the best and only way of marketing tobacco, to insure the highest dollar to the grower. These facts have been demonstrated in Virginia, North and South Carolina where they have been selling tobacco on this plan for the past fifty years.

Drive your wagon to the Danville market. You will always find someone to attend to your wants, and welcome you. During the sale we will do our very best to get you the highest market price for your tobacco.

All the large factory buyers will be on hand on the first day of sale. We have experienced men in all departments to look after your interests, including two of the finest auctioneers in this or any other State.

The Warehouses do not buy tobacco except on sale at auction. We do a strictly commission business. Free stables and no rejection fee.

Appreciating your past patronage, we hope you will see your way clear to bring us your tobacco, guaranteeing you the highest market prices, absolutely accurate weights and an all around square deal. You are cordially invited to attend our sales.
